Open a world map and take a look at the extensive expanse of Asia. In between the Indian and the Pacific Oceans you will find the Indonesian Archipelago stretching west to east along the Equator. Right at its heart, in the seas of eastern Indonesia lies the snake-shaped island of Flores.

Flores is most famous for two internationally renowned attractions. Firstly, the Komodo National Park, home to the unique Komodo dragon, a monitor lizard of impressive size and appearance, which attracts thousands of people annually from around the world; and secondly, Kelimutu National Park, an inactive volcano in the centre of Flores that intrigues visitors with its three brightly-coloured crater lakes, which are steeped in local mythology.

However, Flores is so much more than Komodo and Kelimutu. Nature lovers will find it everywhere: deserted islands with white sandy beaches to escape from the hassles of everyday life; beautiful rice fields nestled among soft hilly landscapes, perfect for a laid-back stroll; a concert of birdsong in lush coffee plantations to soothe the mind; and a swim in a hot spring, clear lake, or cool river after a volcano trek. There are so many places of amazing natural beauty still waiting to be explored.

Flores’ natural wonders are not the only thing that makes Flores an unforgettable travel experience. The magic of Flores comes from its people, who receive guests with open arms and heart-warming friendliness, eager to share their fascinating way of life with visitors. This cultural richness is impressive and it is definitely worth getting off the main route to discover Flores’ full spectrum of attractions.

This publication is designed as a practical guide of what Flores has to offer for both tourists and tourism professionals. Have a look inside and you will find a comprehensive list of destinations and itineraries to best enjoy the island, as well as recommended itineraries to plan your Flores trip.

Welcome to Flores, where the untold beauty of Indonesia awaits!

COVER STORY
NGADA TRADITIONAL COSTUME

Ngada District lists Flores’ most quoted destinations among the art and culture-interest travelers. Traditional villages such as: Bena, Tololela, Wogo, Gurusina, and the recently discovered, Belaraghi, boast Florinese culture and tradition long preserved in a beautiful countryside setting.

FIND TRAVEL AGENTS & ACCOMMODATIONS
Flores offers infinite nature, culture, and adventure exploration for your holiday. Trips can be arranged for three days, one week or even ten days depending on your available time (see “Places To Go” for sample itineraries).

For any travel service requirements, see “Find Travel Agents & Accommodations” for more details. The tour rate usually includes accommodation, meals, coach transfers, entrance fees, guides, refreshments and drinks; whereas return flights, airport taxes, porters, snorkelling/diving/camera fees, and other personal expenses are the visitor’s responsibility. Tipping is welcome as an appreciation of services you receive.

Visiting Flores is an adventure, so leave behind any expectations of high-end accommodation, sophisticated restaurants, and modern shopping malls or transportation, as these are all usually very basic. However, don’t let this stop you from exploring the island.
The Republic of Indonesia is the largest archipelago in the world, and of its more than 17,000 islands, only around 6,000 islands are inhabited. With over 250 million inhabitants, Indonesia is the world’s fourth-most populated country. All in all, there are more than 700 languages spoken in Indonesia.

More than half of Indonesia’s people live on the island of Java, and Jakarta, the capital of Indonesia is home to around 20 million inhabitants.

Tourism in Indonesia is an important component of the economy and the sprawling archipelago has so much natural beauty, historical heritage, and cultural diversity to offer. Beside beaches, diving sites, volcanoes, mountains and various national parks, the people and rich cultural attractions reflect Indonesia’s dynamic history and ethnic diversity.

Komodo National Park offers more than just its prehistoric Komodo dragons (varanus komodoensis). Explore different adventure treks around Komodo and Rinca Island or explore off-the-beaten-trails along the slopes of Mount Ara and the Poreng Valley, which is situated 580m above sea-level. This scenic area will surely dazzle with its rich diversity of exotic fauna, wild orchids and tropical plants. Be sure to immerse yourself in the enchanting underwater world in the Komodo National Park. Going beneath the sea, Flores’ underwater world opens up to reveal a diverse and colourful parallel universe of marine life. Komodo National Park is a home in the west hosts remarkable dive sites and is home to over 1,000 species of fish and more than 350 reef-building corals. Be it muck diving, night diving, snorkeling, or simply enjoying this pristine hideaway, Flores offers a mind-blowing underwater thrill that makes it like a second home for dive enthusiasts.
Pink Beach is a delightful dive and one of the most popular spots in the park. The pristine Pink beach gets its color from red coral fragments, and is located near the trekking area on Komodo Island. The shallow reef begins just by the beach, and is perhaps one of the best snorkeling sites in the park, deep enough to snorkel at low tide and not too deep at high tide. Colorful clumps of hard corals lie interspersed with brilliant patches of white sand and form a haven for fish of all shapes and sizes. The life here is more typical of the southern sites and the water temperature is usually around 25°C. The predominant currents here are mild and from the south, and the site is best dived on a falling tide. About 50m out from the beach, a small rocky outcrop is exposed at low tide and marks the ideal starting point for this dive. Follow the wall down to 18–20m, where large schools of fusiliers, snappers, extremely tame grouper, and many lion and scorpion fish can be found engulfing the headland. While only a small dive site, it is nonetheless very rich in both hard and soft corals, with plentiful tunicates and feather stars. Careful searching in and around the rocks can reveal frogfish, nudibranchs, fire urchins, crocodile fish, crustaceans, and much, much more. Further to the northeast lies a steep sandy slope which is home to razor fish and, if you’re lucky, the extremely rare and elusive sand diver.

Dive site of north Komodo Island, Manggarai Barat

The South Passage separates Gili Lawa Darat from Komodo Island and is best dive on a rising tide, when the current runs east to west creating a gentle drift out from Gili Lawa Bay. The eastern shore of the peninsula, just inside the bay, is an ideal starting point for the dive.

Follow the current, with the reef to your left, around the point. Turtles are regularly seen on this pretty coral reef. The point is a great place to snorkel amongst schools of fish, and deeper at 20–25m many small coral trout, large schools of anchovies, small tuna, and trevally come in to feed in the bay. Deeper still, along the bottom of the slope, fish life increases; garden eels sway and white tip reef sharks sleep on the sandy bottom. The site is large and rarely crowded; although is popular in the high season with liveaboards, as Gili Lawa Bay offers a good anchorage.

Seraya Kecil is a relaxed and easy dive, just 40 minutes travel from Labuan Bajo. This proximity to the mainland offers the exciting option of a spectacular evening or night dive. The area is also a very well known snorkel site. Begin the dive on the northwest side of Seraya Kecil, above a sandy tongue. Following the slope to the north, you will discover a beautiful coral garden and small rocks littered across the sandy bottom down to 18m.

Seraya Kecil is a fantastic place to spot various kinds of nudibranch, scorpionfish, stonefish and other photogenic macro life. Search the gorgonians carefully for pygmy seahorses; it is an exhilarating experience to spot one of these cryptic creatures. But there is more to Seraya Kecil than amazing macro diving. Turtles are frequently found, and divers that descend deeper into the channel will find a small seamount at 30m, where eagle rays, reef sharks and other big pelagics congregate. The mid-water currents can pick up in the channel, so it is better to turn around and end the dive exploring in the shallows.

OTHER ATTRACTIONS

DIVING AROUND MAUMERE, SIKKA REGENCY

THE CRACK
Dive site in Babi Island, Sikka

THE CRACK is called after the 10m deep crack, a remain of the earthquake (which pulled the reef apart) and following tsunami in 1992. The crack starts at the drop off and continuing land inwards all along the shallow reef of Babi Island. Rumors of destroyed reefs caused by the earthquake are nonsense. The Crack is a perfect shelter for sweetlips, starpuffer fish, boxfish, batfish, firefish and many others which like to hide safely.

The wall of Babi Island is overgrown with different soft and hard coral, oysters, sponges, huge fans etc, creating shelter for giant morays, baby sharks bedding in the caverns, pygmy seahorses, different species of nudibranchs, leafscorpion fish, dartfish, frogfish, juvenile reef fish and dragonets.

It is easy for loosing yourself in watching the little details on the wall. Looking down, eagle rays nuzzling around and turtles feeding on the big barrel sponges. Marple rays passing and reef sharks swimming by. Along the edge of the wall the surgeon fish group and the midnight snappers stay along with the passing mackerel and fusilier schools. The site is easy to dive as long you control your buoyancy, to stay on the right depth. Currents are mostly mild, if there is any, horizontal directions.

THE FISH SOUP
Dive site in Pangabatang Island, Sikka

The dive site FISH SOUP lays on the Southern side of the Pangabatang Island. Pangabatang is a small sand bank, located between Dambil Island and the main land Tanjung Darat. The water is pushing through the channel between Pangabatang and Tanjung Darat and therefore the current is often strong. By incoming tide the eagle ray groups are standing still- gliding in the blue water, white tip reef sharks shooting up from the deep, chasing giant trevally’s or turtles along the edge of the channel (30m-24m) where a coral reef is framing the end of the sandy bottom, before it drops. Schools of snappers, red tooth trigger fish, Wahoo, huge dog tooth tuna’s and Napoleon are gathering there, creating the famous FISH SOUP. Marple rays as well as Jenkins’ stingrays resting on the sand. Sometimes a hammerhead shark is curious and watches all the traffic in the channel.

The divers swim along the channel. The drop off, starting at over 30m, is overgrown with big Gorgonian fans which offers a beautiful view from above. Continuing the dive, the divers follow the channel into shallower depth, passing a field of garden eels and blue spotted stingrays enjoying overgrown seamounts, the home for the big batfish family, and the slope with different hard and soft coral. Passing “the Corner” and following the shallower channel surprising the divers with big schools of bumphead parrotfish, especially around full moon. Often we have to wait them to pass by as we cannot swim pass them, because they are too many. On the shallower slope, 145m, there is a lot of smaller fish to find. Lobsters, crocodile flathead, pipefish, pipehorse, ribbon eels, ghostpipe fish, many different nudibranchs and plenty of reef fish inhabiting this area. The current easily picks up and becomes strong.

COMMUNITY BASED TOURISM

TADO VILLAGE
Manggarai Barat
Located 45km east of Labuan Bajo, Tado Village is one of the best places to get a hands-on experience of the long-standing Manggaraian way of life. Rather inconspicuous at first sight, it reveals an immense cultural and traditional wealth. Tado villagers, wearing their traditional costumes, will be happy to receive you with a traditional welcome ceremony. Tado is practicing community-based ecotourism. Tado ecotourism village also offers special-request tours that are an integral part of the village’s cultural conservation programme. The ‘ancient ritual’ tour features locally renowned Caci performers who will get you acquainted with the rituals, legends, and music associated with this famous element of Manggaraian culture.

WATURAKA VILLAGE
Kelimutu National Park
Waturaka, in a corner of the Flores countryside is a humble farming village located at the foot of Mount Kelimutu. This small village has been developed so it’s ready to welcome visitors coming to experience Moni and its surrounding areas. Simple yet clean homestays are available in Waturaka. Here, you can enjoy the totally unique experience of living with local family and tasting local dishes prepared with fresh ingredients from the garden. Located nearby are two trekking trails heading to two amazing attractions, i.e. Murukeba Waterfall and Mutulo’o hot steam. Waturaka offers more than just homestays.
WHEN TO GO

Each season in Flores has its charms. However, it is more comfortable to travel the island in the dry season from mid-April to the end of October. As some roads can be impassable due to ongoing heavy rains, you might not be able to reach remote destinations. Please consider making advanced bookings during the dry season, especially when planning to stay in Labuan Bajo which gets pretty crowded. If you plan to do intense trekking, you should definitely choose to visit Flores in the dry season, as hours of walking in the pouring rain will be more of a pain than a pleasure. Even though Flores is a tropical island, it is highly advisable to bring some warm clothes (jacket, sweater, etc) and appropriate footwear for your journeys to the mountainous regions around Ruteng, Bajawa and Kelimutu.

BY SEA

If you are up to a different, more time intensive, travel experience, you can choose to take a PELNI (national ship passenger service) boat from Benoa Harbor in Bali to Labuan Bajo (about 36 hrs), which operates three times a month. There are also monthly PELNI boats from Benoa to Ende (about 2 days 3 hrs), Maumere (about 2 days 5 hrs), and Larantuka (about 3 days 11 hrs). The timetables are unreliable and depend on the season. For updated information and ticket reservation, visit the website www.pelni.co.id, or contact the PELNI office in Kuta, Bali (Jalan Raya Kuta 299, +62 (0)361 763963) or in Benoa, Bali (Jalan Pelabuhan Benoa, +62 (0)361 723689).

Until not so long ago, Flores was hardly penetrable because of the chain of volcanoes that stretches across the 450km long but narrow island. Labuan Bajo in the west, Ende and Maumere in the east are the three main gateways for tourists visiting Flores. Those places have airports with daily flights to and from Denpasar, Bali.

HOW TO GET THERE

The easiest and fastest way to reach Flores is by air from Ngurah Rai Airport in Bali. There are daily flights from Denpasar to Labuan Bajo (90 minutes, +30 minutes to Ende), or Maumere (2 hours). Depending on the weather, you may enjoy a spectacular view of the NTB (Nusa Tenggara Barat) and NTT (Nusa Tenggara Timur) island groups. Unfortunately changes in schedule, prices, and operating airlines are the order of the day. The most precise information about the current flight connections is best obtained via the websites of the operating airlines, at Bali Ngurah Rai Airport, or at the local travel airline agencies in Flores. Garuda Indonesia, Wings Air, Transnusa, Sriwijaya/ Nam Air and Kalstar Aviation are the operating airlines to/from Flores.
Flores will entangle you with its impressive landscape and unique cultural features. Be aware though that it takes time to explore the hidden treasures that are spread over this 450km long beautiful island. As the roads are often steep, curvy, and in a mediocre condition, you will rarely go faster than 30 km/h. In addition, the island’s pace of life is generally slower than your usual rhythm. Thus, travelling in Flores requires some patience and some time to adjust.

ABOUT ‘TRANSFLORES HIGHWAY’

The so-called ‘Transflores highway’ is the main road that connects Flores from west to east. Starting from Labuan Bajo and ending in Larantuka, this 700 km-long road twists and tumbles across the island. This route never gets boring: it leads you to waterfalls, crosses mountains, and passes traditional villages. For more remote natural and cultural exploration, the Transflores highway offers you a good starting point for taking side roads into undiscovered areas.

BIKE & CAR RENTAL

Alternative to public transport, hiring a car with an experienced driver gives you the flexibility to stop wherever you want. Most of the cars are privately owned, and the sector does not offer international standard tourism services yet. A small number of tour operators have their own cars. So far, no cars are rented for self-driving. A motorbike is a good option for traveling around Flores as well, since some of the remote areas can only be reached by this means of transport. However, longer distances are for experienced drivers only as the roads are sometimes in a terrible condition. Motorbikes can be rented in the district capitals. Do not forget to bring an international driving license with you to rent a car or motorbike.

PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION

Within the district capitals and larger towns it is quite easy and cheap to cover short distances by hopping on and off bemo (minibuses). The Ojek, motorbike taxi often offered by young men who want to make an extra income, is another option for shorter distances. As it is quite popular to work as an Ojek driver, you will also find these young chauffeurs in more remote places, of course the price is negotiable. For longer distances, you may choose to ride on one of the many buses and trucks that bring their passengers from one town to another. It is advisable to reserve a seat in advance (preferably the front row so it will be less bumpy) at a local travel agent because the buses can get crowded. They mostly depart and arrive via public bus stations. Exact time schedules are not available, and buses will only depart once all seats are occupied.

DIVING TIPS

Komodo National Park is just as famous for its currents as it is the dragons that roam topside. It’s thought to be home to some of the most challenging recreational diving in the world.

Here are some Do’s and Don’ts for diving in currents:

- Do be aware that diving in Komodo National Park is for everyone and sites can be dived in many ways to accommodate all levels of experience.
- Do communicate with your dive guide both on the surface and underwater. If you are uncomfortable or have a problem they need to know.
- Do relax to maintain a regular breathing pattern.
- Do swim close to the bottom or reef to reduce the strength of the current.
- Do listen to the dive briefing and don’t be afraid to ask questions.
- Do practice good buoyancy control and finning techniques. Courses are available to help you improve that.
- Don’t fin like crazy against a current. Take a break before you exhaust yourself.
- Don’t stray too far from your buddy or guide in strong current. Risk of separation and other problems can increase.
- Don’t choose your dive operator based on price alone. Safety and experience should be at the top on your list when choosing an operator.
- Don’t forget the most amazing marine life can be seen in current, such as Manta! Relax and enjoy the show.
- Happy diving!

TRAVEL TIPS

VISA REQUIREMENTS
The visa requirements depend on the length of your stay and on your home country’s regulations. Indonesian visa requirements are prone to changes. Thus, it is important to check the respective requirements at the Indonesian embassy or consulate in your home country before you start on your journey. If you want to extend your visa in Flores, you can visit immigration office in Labuan Bajo or Maumere.

MONEY
In Flores, only Indonesian rupiah (IDR) is accepted for cash payments. In general, the payment in Flores is cash-based. Money transfers are not usually possible, as using international accounts is not very common yet. There are ATMs in the district capitals which – depending on the bank – accept major credit cards (Visa/Mastercard) where you can get cash. The banks will also change your foreign currency into rupiah. In Labuan Bajo, you also have the option of changing your money at local money changers. Be sure to check their exchange rates and fees before the transaction. Travellers cheques are rather difficult to change.

SHOPPING
In Flores you will experience a different but probably more exciting kind of shopping beyond your notions of malls and supermarkets. There are many small to large local markets where you can find fresh agricultural products, fish, meat, and many other regional products. In the larger towns you can find all kinds of small shops that sell new as well as used clothes, household tools, electronic gadgets etc. Not only will you see a range of familiar or unknown local products, you may also witness a barter transaction, which used to be the traditional way of doing business in Flores.

It definitely pays off to wake up very early if you want to have a complete culinary and cultural experience of a Florenese market. Of all Florenese products, ikat cloth which is sold in locally different forms, colors, and styles, is definitely the most meaningful, valuable, and unique souvenir. Florinese ikat is mostly hand-woven, and some of the cloth is made out of all-natural local ingredients – from the cotton to the dyeing agents. Thus, it may take up to three years to produce such a magnificent piece of art.

The Florenese people are skilled carvers, too. The most popular products are the Komodo dragons made out of wood which are frequently sold to tourists in Labuan Bajo. Traditional Florinese coffee is another typical island product that you should not miss. Coffee is grown and produced in most parts of the Flores highlands. Its great taste is well known throughout Indonesia.

DO’S AND DON’TS
While visiting Flores, you will notice many cultural differences, also in matters of behavior. Visitors who respect the local customs and traditions will find a heartwarming hospitality from their Indonesian hosts and get an unforgettable travel experience. It is therefore an advantage if you consider some basic cultural do’s and don’ts for Flores:

- Smile a lot!
  Probably the most important thing is smiling. Smile is an indicator for friendliness. Visitors who do not reply the smiles or greetings will find it hard to get close to the local people.

- Reduce the use of your left hand!
  Use your right hand for bringing food to your mouth as well as to pass on and receive things. The left hand, being used to wash after going to the bathroom, is considered to be dirty. Try to avoid passing food, money, shaking hands or touching people with your left hand as it will be considered offensive. Avoid touching men, women or even children’s head as well as this is considered offensive.

- Dress conservatively!
  For female travelers, it is highly advisable to dress rather conservatively – a shirt covering the shoulders, and a lower body garment to the knees – especially when visiting villages and cultural objects. Unless you are on a dive boat or on one of Labuan Bajo’s beaches or islands frequently visited by tourists, you should wear more than just a bikini to swim. Best to bring a fast-drying t-shirt, a pair of board shorts and a sarong to change into if you plan to enjoy Flores’ remote waters. Please also consider that it is inappropriate for men and women to change clothes in the same place.

Flores has absolutely great potential for touring around on various roads using bicycles. Pedalling across idyllic villages, passing rice fields, lakes and forests and enjoying a nice picnic at a spot of your choice is just a wonderful experience you can have while on the island. Cycling in Flores is an adventure fitting for small groups and individualists and is best done by bringing your own, well maintained, bicycle from home country. Alternatively, rent a bike in Bali and transport it either to Labuan Bajo or Ende and back. A classical mountain bike with medium broad tyres fits most of Flores’ road conditions. Bring a helmet, gloves and lights as well as air pump, good chain oil and an all-purpose toolset with you.
With authentic genuine Florenese warmth, Flores is an ideal place to visit. From seaside hotels catering to leisure and adventure seeking-travelers to restaurants offering delicious local dishes, as well as professional tour operators are available to make your stay in Flores a rewarding experience.
